BIOGRAPHY COUNSEL

Aude Londero mainly advises our clients on white-collar crime (including compensation for personal injury) and commercial litigation issues. She assists companies and executive officers with criminal risk prevention, proceedings initiated by judicial authorities, and business-to-business disputes.

A member of the Paris Bar since 2014, she joined our teams the same year. Aude holds a master's degree (Master 2) in Business Law and Tax Law from Paris Panthéon-Sorbonne University and graduated from HEC Paris Business School; academic backgrounds that have provided her with strong expertise in these areas.
