BIOGRAPHY
ASSOCIATE

Member of the Paris Bar since January 2018, Manon Krouti mainly intervenes on international cases of corruption or economic and financial offences. In particular, she works on the definition of the strategy of defense whether it is pre-litigation, judicial or negotiated.

Manon also assists companies in mitigating and managing their risk related to anti-corruption and international economic sanctions compliance. She is involved in supporting them in their relations with the French anticorruption agency during audits or with regard to issues related to blocking statutes.

Manon is a member of the Criminal Bureau of the Paris Bar and participates in ex officio committees for emergency criminal defense.

Prior to joining the firm in 2020, Manon was an associate at Soulez Larivière & Associés for two and a half years.
